

Is your marriage in trouble? Are there signs that you have problems in your marriage that aren't resolved? Many couples tend to ignore the signs until it is too late. There are usually numerous clues couples give which indicate their marriage may be in trouble. Some of the clues are obvious and some are more subtle. It is essential to strengthening a marriage and making wedding vows come true that these clues be recognized, admitted, and addressed in a positive manner. The good news is there are positive solutions to marriage problems. The challenge is for couples to seek and accept those solutions. This booklet contains 55 signs that a marriage may be in trouble. They are basic eye-openers. I encourage couples to open their minds and prayerfully evaluate the present status of their marriage in light of these 55 signs. There are blank pages for you to take notes, write observations, and make specific plans to strengthen your marriage. Action is the intentional way to improve your marriage. After each sign there is a YES and NO box [] to check indicating if YES this sign is an issue, or NO this sign is not an issue in my marriage. Several boxes checked YES should be a red flag indicating your marriage needs help. Don't ignore the warning signs. At the end of the booklet there is a follow-up exercise. This is a must booklet for all marriages. It is preventive and corrective.
