

Podcasting for Real Estate and Finance Professionals

This book shows Real Estate Professionals how to create, produce and distribute Podcasts for business. Podcasting offers Real Estate Professionals a hot new way to promote their services and make more money in Real Estate. Business Podcasts are like radio talk shows, but not broadcast. Instead, they're recorded and distributed over the Internet. Listeners - at their convenience - play them back on their computers or download them to portable MP3 players - just as they do with music and audio books. With the straight-forward guidance in this book, Real Estate Professionals can easily and economically produce their own shows. Using Podcasting as a marketing tool, they can gain the greater recognition and competitive edge that leads directly to making more money in Real Estate.
