

Breather

There is something in Kristin and Kales house. Ever since their mother passed away and their father started drinking, beginning the eighth grade hasnt been an easy task for either of them. But Kristin knows that things are going to get more complicated when the house that theyve moved into has a cryptic history and an even stranger effect on their family. Now, when hallucinations, unexplainable flocks of crows, scary dreams, and an uncertain future are all happening at once, she has to learn to trust the ones worth trusting and stand her ground when no one else is standing behind her.
