

Christianity and Politics in Does Liberia (Cambridge Studies in Ideology and Religion)

This study examines the role of Christianity in Liberia under the corrupt regime of Samuel K. Doe (1980-1990). Paul Gifford shows that, in general, Liberian Christianity--far from being a force for justice and human advancement--diverted attention from the cause of Liberias ills, left change to Gods miraculous intervention, encouraged obedience and acceptance of the status quo, and thus served to entrench Does power. This Christianity, devised in and controlled from the United States, thus furthered regional American economic and political objectives, which were designed to support Does rule.
