

The Great Gospel Deception

In this eye-opening book, David Servant takes a close look at what the New Testament actually teaches about saving faith, Gods transforming grace, and the holiness without which no one will see the Lord (Hebrews 12:14) This book examines the modern gospel that is so popular in America and around the globe, but that is often lacking when compared to the gospel of the Bible. The primary difference is that the modern gospel portrays a grace that is foreign to Scripture, a grace that is actually a license to sin. Whereas the gospel of the Bible reveals a grace from God that offers people a limited time to repent and a promise of freedom from sin. Jesus told the woman caught in adultery, I do not condemn you, either. Go. From now on sin no more (John 8:11). You can be certain that if that woman continued in her sin, when she stood at Christs judgment seat after her death, she did not hear the same words again. Likewise, God is graciously giving every person a limited opportunity to repent, so that each person will stand before Him forgiven and striving to follow Him to enter through the narrow gate (Matt. 7:13).
