

Everything in life starts with unconditional self-love: I am the love in my live, I am incredible, I am amazing,I am love, I am me

It is all about the joy! It is all about the love of living! It is all about the joy and love of being mine / yours most unique and most authentic self! And yet,I / You / We / KNOW THIS. What is love? Where do I see love? Every breath I take. Every sight my I see. Every sound I hear. Every feeling I have. Every sensation in my body. Every intense dream I have. Every living thing I encounter. Every moment in nature. Every planet. Every galaxy. All time. Every moment. Every second. Everything. Every time the Sun rises and sets and all the short moments in-between. Every season of nature and all moments in-between. Every season of life. Nature in all its glory. The smiling gaze of a beautiful, warm woman. Human eyes shining so brightly that you can see the soul. The cry of a newborn baby. A lovers passion. A dancers joy and passion. Bright, smiling eyes. The summer haze over a forest on summer morning. A bitterly cold winters day with mind-threatening silence. Fog and grayness of foggy rainy days. Sea and desert and everything in-between. A dancing couple with smiling eyes and happy faces. One who chooses happiness. One who uses his lifetime well and without regrets. One who dares. One who loves. One who acts. One who smiles. One who is. Me and you and everybody in-between us. Time to live. One who chooses to do things because one is still here regardless. Simply time. Even the bad days because we still are here. We still experience life even when sick. To experience life in all its glory that is love and everything on this planet helps us with that and thats why everything and anything is love. I see the love in every grain of sand and flower and man and woman and I dare to love. To love is my choice, my time. I am love. I am my time. I am me and I am love.
