

Survivors Guide at a Time of Loss

In most families there is one person who handles all the paperwork involved in the problems of daily living one person who pays the bills, reconciles the check book, and in general handles most of the tasks of day to day life. When this person passes on the surviving spouse or children can be quite in the dark as to know what to do and when to do it. This little pamphlet is designed to get the survivor(s) through the practicalities of continuing life while suffering the pains of the loss of a loved one. Please note that this booklet is aimed primarily at the American public.
