

Excerpt from Hints on the Formation of Religious Opinions: Addressed Especially to Young Men and Women of Christian Education The following discourses are not addressed to positive unbelief. A different method would be necessary in order to the hopeful treatment of this. They were prepared for the benefit of those who having been educated into a full belief of the Christian faith, have found themselves, on coming to maturity, or afterwards, disturbed with inward questionings and doubts. The design was, by hints in relation to some of the more important subjects, to assist such in giving their thoughts a right direction, and in confirming themselves intelligently in their early religious convictions.
