

Life is Beautiful

I lived the first 18 years of my life in Pakistan and the past 23 years in the States. Even when I was in Pakistan, I was hopeful for a better future. But once I moved to the States and had a totally different life experience I still had hope for a better tomorrow. I wanted to have security in finances, in a home, and in my family. But my experiences taught me that even when I thought I had security, I didn't have any security in anything. And when I hit rock bottom, I told myself that the only place I could go was up. I kept holding onto hope for tomorrow. I always look at the situation as the glass being half full, not empty. My positive attitude and hope have kept me moving on.
