

Evolution: The Grand Experiment Teachers Manual: Vol. 2 - Living Fossils

Special Note: This Teachers Manual has been specially designed to be easily used and adapted for a variety of educational applications. Expertise in the theory of evolution is not required to teach this specific unit study. This Teachers Manual is designed for students from junior high to college and is intended to accompany the book Living Fossils. The student will learn how animals and plants are classified, how fossils are named, and how many modern-appearing animals have been found with dinosaurs. The material presented in this course contains interviews with over 16 expert scientists from some of the most highly acclaimed scientific institutions, universities, and museums of the world. This Teachers Manual contains all of the tools needed to assist in lesson preparation including: Purpose of Chapter To summarize the purpose of each chapter for the instructor Class Discussion Questions To stimulate student interest in the chapter material Objectives of Chapter for Students To assist students in preparing for examinations Chapter Examinations To assess if students adequately understand the materials Sectional Examination To prepare students for the comprehensive final examination Comprehensive Final Examination To assure students retain the information A thorough study of the current evidence both for and against the theory of evolution is timely. As one of the most controversial topics of our day, it is appropriate for learning institutions and home educators to address this issue, and advantageous for students to be part of this important discussion. BONUS FEATURE! Perforated test pages makes administering student exams easy!
