

Modern Marriage and God: A critical study on Modern Marriage and God

Currently in our communities (Upper Nile State, South Sudan), there are three types of marriages; Traditional Marriages, Christian/Religious Marriages and Modern Marriages. Are all true marriages? Can true marriage be any of these types of marriages? What is true marriage? One can ask many good questions here, but the reality is that we will get different answers from different people about these issues. In our days and age, many of us confuse the true marriage because of the misconceptions about marriage in general. Is marriage all about having children? What if we don't have children for whatever reason, what do we do? Do I only marry a woman as a man or we marry each other? Depending on the worldview, one may agree or disagree with my arguments here in this book, yet the truth remains what it is; True marriage is not Traditional, neither Religious, nor Modern, but a marriage ordained by God. A marriage when a man and a woman realizes that they are for each other for life. A marriage focused on God and on each other (husband and wife) not on any other object outside the marriage bond (wealth, children or anything else). Here you will read about: -> Traditional Marriages -> Christian Marriages -> Modern Marriages -> True Marriage/summary and conclusion
