

Where Is My Magic?: Beyond Self Esteem

Everyones magic is created by the intensity of each thought that comes from within our own heart and mind. What we give most thought to is what actually manifests. There are endless possibilities of what one can create through effort and belief that your dreams are already part of your reality minus the doubts. My goal is to expand your thinking, not change you. You can believe or not. If each person was equal but our role was chosen for us, there would be no adventure or emotion. We still have choice to follow our own path and choose how to follow it. The fact we have choice is magical! This book goes beyond making our esteem healthy. It is the first step to allow the meek to inherit the earth and take back our peace!
