

Excerpt from The Society Maintains the New York Hospital the House of Relief Bloomingdale Hospital for Mental Diseases Convalescent Cottages The Governors of the New York Hospital have been for some time deeply conscious of the defects of the present site of their main Hospital in 15th and 16th Streets. Owing to the erection of lofty buildings in its immediate proximity, the Hospital has been deprived to a great extent of its light, air and sunshine - which are to-day recognized as indispensable prerequisites for proper hospital work. That it has been possible to conduct the Hospital at that spot with any degree of satisfaction, has been chiefly due to the fortunate but quite accidental circumstance that the land lying directly opposite, on the southerly side of 15th Street, has not been built upon; but it is evidently impossible to count upon a continuance of these conditions for any length of time. The Governors of the Society, therefore, on January 31, 1910, adopted resolutions expressing their opinion that the present site had become inadequate, both in size and facilities, for the efficient performance of the work of the Society, and that these defects were increasing and seemed practically irremediable; and they set about enquiries as to obtaining a new and suitable site.
