

Online Marketing NITRO: The Complete Marketing System to Generate a Six Figure Income (Self Study Course Book 7)

The COMPLETE system to making REAL money online

If you are struggling to make money online, or you are still waiting for the right moment to get started, or you've reached a point where your business is just not moving in the right direction... then your day just got a lot better.

It's a sad fact that most people who try their hand at internet marketing fail to make enough money to go full-time with it. Worst still... Most people fail to make NO money at all - but waste hundreds trying to make it happen. Just think about that for a moment.

Imagining having a dream of creating an online business whereby it provides an income for you and your family... allows some freedom to enjoy spending precious time with your family... and establishing that business into something that will support you for the rest of your life... BUT!... Within weeks your plans and dreams are wrecked! Not a single penny has been earned. There is NO plan B. That's it... NO internet lifestyle... NO freedom... NO creating a business that will support you and your family... Scary thought isn't it?

Sadly hundreds... perhaps even thousands ... of people have been there. And usually they are NOT to blame for their failure. Nearly five years have passed since I wrote my Online Mentor Programme. At that time there was a real need for an honest and genuine with actually proof and hands-on experience training programme that peeled away the B.S. and presented the reader with a workable online marketing model. I say real need because the marketplace was clogged with incredibly bad internet marketing advice. Some was highly technical involving coding, HTML, SEO and affiliate websites - well out of the comfort zone of most people. A lot of the advice involved attracting JV partners... but there was a BIG problem... The marketers teaching this method were all in cahoots with each other and who in turn promoted each others products to their huge combined lists - giving them dubious proof of earnings. The rest of the advice seemed to come from beginners/newbies positioning themselves as experts with little or no actual experience more a case of them buying an ebook and peddling the information off as their own. Basically the Internet Marketing niche was a crap place to be at that time. There were one or two guys doing a decent job with online marketing...

...and although they truly understood the concept that online marketing is just another platform for selling goods rather than the Holy Grail, I felt their marketing budgets far exceeded the average man and womens on the street which gave them a huge advantage over others. So that was the kind of thing out there back in the period 2005 2010. I too was frustrated by what was out there, but then... A few things started to come together. Firstly, I discovered that there was no need to have product after product lined up on Clickbank ready for others/affiliates to sell for you. (* Im sure you know that model... Create a product, stick it on Clickbank or JV Zoo priced at $27.00, let others sell it for you and you give away 60-80% of any income to the affiliates.) Secondly, I discovered that simply engaging with potential customers and treating them as real people instead of numbers on a list did more for my sales than most of the secret black hat B.S. the Gurus were peddling. Internet Marketing started to make sense people buy information products online without the need to apply all the tricks the Gurus were peddling. This really streamlined my online marketing model. Ignore the black hat stuff, the Google cheat methods, the SEO, JVS, Clickbank and instead just use the old fashion method of finding a hungry market with a problem and o
