

The Engagement of Life

The phrase the engagement of life is an attempt to illuminate the choices you make day in and day out. Does life happen to you or are you deliberate in your approach to living? Do you get bogged down and shocked by change that does and will occur in your daily activity? Directly stated and despite what much of culture wants us to believe, you do dictate your engagement of your own personal gears of movement be the direction forward or backward. Are your gears randomly dropped into place or do you prioritize, trying to make sure engagement occurs on your terms? Life does throw sticks into your cogs but you still are the only one accountable for you. How do you engage life?
