

Railway Trainmens Earnings, 1916 (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from Railway Trainmens Earnings, 1916Introductory. - Effective July 1, 1915, the Interstate Commerce Commission issued a set of rules governing the classification of steam-railway employees and their compensation. The returns made by railways to the Commission for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1916, therefore, offer the first opportunity for tabulations based on a uniform classification of their employees. They also afford the opportunity to tabulate average number in service, aggregate compensation, and average annual and hourly earnings of railway employees.This bulletin presents statistics of this nature for the fiscal year 1916, covering the different classes of railway trainmen. It covers only the returns of roads of Class I - that is, those with annual operating revenues above $1,000,000. There were 178 of these roads in 1916, with an operated mileage of 231,245 miles. These roads handled more than 95 percent of the freight and passenger traffic of the railways in 1916, so that statistics covering the number and compensation of their trainmen may be regarded as representative of the general conditions under which railway trainmen work.Five tables follow, with accompanying text, which present statistics of number and compensation of railway trainmen in 1916. The remainder of the bulletin is devoted to definitions of the terms utilized in the bulletin; also a description of the classification of trainmen prescribed by the Commission.About the PublisherForgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
