

Storyweaving Playbook One: Answer the Call to Adventure

Whether you're a change agent, artist, or authentic leader, this playbook will take your unique hero's journey to the next level. These prompts and exercises will help you strengthen and claim your unique call to adventure, a process that activates your deepest, most connected resources. With playful, practical steps in your private journal, you'll energize your vision, goals and relationships to move forward with important projects and create sustainable change in your life and in the world. This self-paced process is built on my trademark Storyweaving strategies, developed from my research in healthy transformation and the neurological and psychological power of story. After 20 years of sharing Storyweaving through coaching, healing and trainings, I've created a system that helps you explore your own way, with grounded support and creative discovery. You'll start where you are (not where anyone else thinks you should be!), release blocks and celebrate your strengths, claim your inner and outer allies on your own hero's journey, and finally, dive deep into your own story to take the leap and cross the threshold to answer your unique call to adventure. If you're tired of the old story of your life, or in the middle of transforming that story, you deserve support. It's so much easier to love your life when you resonate deeply and joyfully with the stories you're living. Changing your stories really does change your life. Think of it this way: our stories are the engines of our choices, hopes and connections with the world. If you had a car, and you needed to repair the engine, a paint job or fancy tires would only make it look new. The same old engine will give the same old results: at best, a rough ride, and at worst, a breakdown when it's least convenient. Storyweaving repairs your engine so you can go where you want to go, when you're ready. Everyone has a larger-than-the-ordinary-world call to actualization, a heroic imagination that makes life worth living. With these activated stories, we can become heroes in our own lives, making a difference in the world. Sometimes the difference we make gives us fame and power. Sometimes we make a difference quietly and humbly. The hero's journey belongs to all of us, and Storyweaving will help you take that journey with joy and courage. Depending on your schedule and your goals, completing the Storyweaving Playbook should take only 1-3 months. The process is progressive, self-paced and flexible, offering creative alternatives with every exercise so you can make Storyweaving work for you. It's also fun, awakening your creativity as it awakens your calling. Whether you're stuck or restless, just beginning your journey or looking for a boost along the way, use this playful and proven tool to connect to your call for an authentic path, and find the energy and joy you need to move forward to a more satisfying life.
