Excerpt: ... them we might well suppose he entered in, with somewhat of the same eclat that attended the ascension of the Lord of Glory as described by the Psalmist, when the echo rang throughout the Celestial World, Lift up you heads O ye gates, even lift them up ye everlasting doors and--this conquering hero shall come in! While attending the monster camp-meeting at Ocean Grove this past summer, where hundreds of the Methodist clergy and thousands of the laity were gathered, I heard the leader one morning announce to the assembled throng the sudden death of one of his associates in this wise:-- Our brother, last night, found the door of heaven a little ajar and slipped in. He was with us on this platform last evening; but he is now singing praises with the angels around the Throne of God !! This is the way in which this pagan dogma of the natural immortality of the human soul is sapping the very foundations of the Gospel of Christ; and nothing better is given us in its place by these so-called Christian teachers, than the poetic dreams and mythological fancies of the old heathen world! Take for example the following stanzas on the death of a little girl: She is not dead,--the child of our affection, But gone into that school Where she no longer needs our poor protection And Christ himself doth rule. In that great cloisters stillness and seclusion, By guardian angels led, Safe from temptation, safe from sins pollution, She lives, whom we call dead. Day after day wo think what she is doing In those bright realms of air; Year after year her tender steps pursuing, Behold her grown more fair. Thus do wo walk with her, and keeq unbroken The bond which nature gives, Thinking that our remonstrance, though unspoken, May reach her where she lives. Sweet poetry, you
