

Sweet Love: Mystery Romance

When Jack and Lidia agreed to a fake relationship to make their exes jealous and by extension, re-ignite their former relationships, they had no idea that they would find in each other, everything that they never knew they wanted in a partner! They thrived on hating and teasing each other and, in the context of pretense, experienced each other up close and personal without realizing that their fabricated relationship was slowly eroding and being replaced by the treasure of love. This romantic novel touches on several themes related to family, parenting, extra marital affair, forgiveness, loss of innocence; self-discovery; inter-personal relationships of all kinds (including abusive relationships) and love and romance especially teenage love and romance. Lidia and Jack are your everyday teenagers who, along with their friends, come with all the baggage of teenage culture: the hip slangs; the immaturities; the boyfriend/girlfriend break-up here and make-up there; crazy parties, trendy teenage clothes, high school hallway and locker scenes the works! What happens when teenagers graduate from their high school years? They're old enough to give their hearts away.
