

The Unclothed Man in the 35th Century A.D.

From the acclaimed author of Bottomless Belly Button comes a collection of his short-comics work and the designs for his first-ever animated series for IFC.com. The first quarter of this jacketed hardcover will collect the work-storyboards, scripts, character designs, etc.-that Shaw has created for The Unclothed Man in the 35th Century A.D. animated series to begin airing on IFC.com on December 7th, 2009. The latter three-quarters will collect his acclaimed short stories from MOME, as well as several little-seen stories from elsewhere, and a new 20-page story. The Unclothed Man in the 35th Century A.D. is Shaws first book since his breakthrough graphic novel of 2008, Bottomless Belly Button, which was named Publishers Weeklys best graphic novel of 2008, one of Entertainment Weeklys top ten books of 2008, and one of Amazon.coms top ten graphic novels of the year, amongst numerous other accolades. The book also collects Shaws acclaimed, genre-bending short stories from MOME, including Look Forward, First Son of Terra Two, a remarkable story of two lovers traveling in opposite directions in time. Also featured: Galactic Funnels, the 2008 Ignatz Award nominee for Outstanding Story, about the parasitic relationship between an artist and his lover/mentor; Satellite CMYK, a sci-fi mindwarp that ingeniously drives the narrative through Shaws masterful control of color, and Making the Abyss, a fictionalized story of a surreal film set filled with nuclear tanks, hot tubs, and blind ambition. Like the very best illustrated fiction, Shaws work moves between pathos and humor, between the fantastic and the familiar. The Christian Science Monitor Shaws style deftly combines cartoon drawings with a slavish attention to detail. Masterfully using the comics medium to juggle all the different characters, weaving their stories together seamlessly. Publishers Weekly Full color
